Tuesday poll results:

Harrison court house is in, Hancock school bond is out

Because of a 60 percent majority requirement on all revenue issues, Hancock County school children missed out on a new high school and improvements to existing buildings by 19 votes in Tuesday's balloting.

Harrison County residents, pushing a similar bond issue for the construction of a new county court house, came out better when the $4 million bond issue squeaked by with a 62.9 percent approval of the 13,415 votes cast.

A strong all media campaign in Harrison county for the proposal to replace the present 70-year-old structure with a new and bigger building was apparently more effective than the campaign launched in recent weeks by the Hancock County school board for its bond issue.

A discouragingly light voter turnout in Hancock and strong opposition to the school bond in three north county communities was attributed by election officials Tuesday night as the major reason the bond issue failed.

Although unofficial returns Wednesday morning showed a simple majority of 647 votes for the Hancock bond issue over 483 against, the issue required a total of 666 out of 1,110 total votes cast to pass.

The school bond was trounced in three of the 15 precincts eligible to vote. A total of 105 negative votes in Kiln, coupled with 39 in Catahoula and 60 in Fenton wiped out the favorable votes cast in those and the other precincts.

The $1,565,000 bond issue would have provided a new high school at Gulfview in Lakeshore, a first for the county, as well as a new cafeteria, gymnasium and classrooms sorely needed at Hancock North Central School. Additional classrooms and rest rooms would have also been provided at Charles B. Murphy Elementary in Pearllington.

In the race for second circuit court judge incumbent Floyd J. Logan won a landslide victory over former assistant district attorney Harold DeMetz, despite an energetic campaign by DeMetz who, in repeated media advertisements, charged his opponent with laxness on the bench in dealing with criminal convictions. Unofficial results of the balloting Tuesday night gave Logan a 9,519 victory over 6,091 for DeMetz, Long Beach city attorney.

Logan, who was appointed to the judgeship by Governor John Bell Williams in 1971, was supported by close to 100 attorneys in the second district.

Logan held an almost two to one lead over DeMetz in the 21 Hancock County precincts, gaining an unofficial total of 1,217 votes over DeMetz's 540 after complete returns were tabulated Tuesday night.

Other circuit court judges Leslie Grant and J. Ruble Griffin, the latter a Bay St. Louis resident, were unopposed for reelection.

In the Democratic primary race for the fifth Congressional district, Karl Mertz, 29-year-old Gulfport school teacher lost to former state legislator Wallace W. Murphey.

Murphey, who reentered the political arena after a more than 30 year absence, had held a slim lead over Mertz in the 12-county district when vote-counting ceased Tuesday night, although in Hancock county complete but unofficial returns showed Mertz ahead with 798 to 646 votes for Murphey.

A former state Game and Fish Commissioner from Lafayette, Murphey was confident Tuesday night that his slight lead would prevail, saying, "I had no doubt that I would win the primary."

Complete but unofficial returns Wednesday showed Murphey the winner with a district total of 20,987 to Mertz's 20,833.

Waveland residents oppose condominiums

Waveland aldermen met stiff opposition Tuesday night to accepting a recommendation of the city Planning and Zoning Commission made last week which would allow a New Orleans developer to build apartments or condominiums within 200 feet of the beach.

The board of aldermen which has the power to either accept or reject the

New welcome

Motorists approaching the city of Waveland will notice new welcome signs now located at the city limits on Hwy 90 and on Hwy 603. The board of aldermen plan to spend $50 also at each sign to create an evergreen rock garden to further highlight the attractive metal signs. All is part of recent efforts by the city of Waveland to promote a separate identity from the city of Bay St. Louis and to institute beautification programs within the city.

Supervisors endorse ambulance service

Backing their words with personal checks, Hancock County supervisors Tuesday unanimously endorsed the inception of a private ambulance service in Hancock and West Harrison counties.

Burt Patterson, a representative of Mobile-Medic Ambulance Service, Inc., described the firm's projected operational setup and outlined the emergency medical services which will be available to Coast subscribers to the program. Recent state legislation now imposes stricter requirements for ambulance services throughout the state, Patterson said, by calling for trained paramedics on ambulances and more professional medical equipment on vehicles.

Coast funeral home operators, which in past communities provide the only ambulance services available, can't vindicate the additional expense of conformance to the new regulations, he said, as most are now operating ambulance service at a loss. By August 1 funeral homes will cease ambulance services all together and Mobile-Medic is attempting to garner enough subscribers to begin operating at that time.

Coast subscribers would pay a $15 annual membership fee which covers the entire family and provides ambulance service any time for a year. Five ambulances, costing $22,000 each, will be stationed at key points from Waveland to Ocean Springs to provide round-the-clock immediate service to coast communities. Not exclusively for members, the ambulances will be available to anyone, Patterson pointed out, but non-subscribers will have to pay a substantially larger fee for service plus a cost-per-mile charge.

Supervisors passed a motion endorsing the firm and at the end of the meeting, the five board members as well as Chancery Clerk John Rutherford and Sheriff Sylvan Ladner presented Patterson with personal checks for membership.

In an unrelated matter, despite a letter of appeal from Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver, the board refused to honor a state Board of Health request to post signs on Hancock county beaches warning that the water is unsafe for bathing.

Referring to the fact that coast economy depends on tourist trade seeking boating, swimming and fishing facilities, Board President A. A. "Dolph" Keller said, "If we post signs like that we can kiss the beach goodbye."

Based on recent testings made off the Bay St. Louis beach, the State Board of Health declared the waters unsafe for swimming and asked officials to post warning signs in motels and on the beaches.

Bay City Commissioner Lucien Kidd had the waters tested some 800 feet from shore and found them safe for swimming.

The board agreed to request further testing by the Health Dept. as well as the Air and Water Pollution Control Commission before taking any action on the signs.

In other business the board: —ratified a Port and Harbor resolution assigning a lease agreement for the Bayou Caddy Marina to Marshall Strong.

zoning commission's recommendations scheduled a public hearing for the matter June 25 at the Waveland City Hall after approximately 15 persons showed up at the board meeting to voice their opposition to the aldermen allowing the development.

The zoning commission unanimously recommended at its May 30 meeting that the city allow Floyd Wallis to rezone 1000 feet of his property from R-1 to R-3 allowing multiple family units to be built.

The property in question is located at the western limits of the city of Waveland and close to the Gulfside Assembly Church. The property which fronts Beach Boulevard is 200 feet wide and 1200 feet deep.

Under the zoning commission's proposal the first 200 feet property depth would remain R-1, or single family residential, but the remaining 1000 feet would be made R-3. A fence to compare with the architecture of the multiple family units would be erected between the two property lines.

The zoning commission further stipulated that a 30 foot road with five foot sidewalks on each side be built through the middle of the R-1 property and the number of units be limited to a maximum of 25 with adequate parking for each unit.

In their opposition to the proposal Tuesday night citizens present complained that approval of one unit would invite others to exploit the city for financial gain without regard to the well being of the city as a whole.

Ed Carrere, who resides at 104 Nicholson Avenue in Waveland, said that the property was "at the anchor of Waveland—and it looks like Mr. Wallis is gnawing at the anchor."

"We know there are others waiting in the wings," Carrere said, "and we would like you gentlemen here tonight to give serious consideration to this before you break the chain."

Carrere and others who spoke up at the invitation of Mayor John Longo indicated that they would vigorously oppose the proposal.

James Ryan, who said that he and his brother owned land immediately next to the property of Wallis, said that he would be left with no alternative but to follow the same course as Wallis should the aldermen approve the zoning commission proposal.

In other business, Mayor Longo promised to get engineers and contractors working on the city's sewage treatment plant together for a progress report to the aldermen and to iron out problems with subcontractors working on resurfacing streets damaged by the construction crews.

Alderman Ducre Bourgeois complained that people in his ward were asking him about street repairs and other matters that he didn't know anything about himself.

City attorney Lucien Gex said that the city was presently engaged in legal negotiations with contractors over delays in work and this was accounting for some of the problems.

Gex said that liquidated damages charged Wilson Construction Company since March 1 for delays had already exceeded $25,000 at the rate of $280 per day.

In other business the board approved a motion to appropriate a total of $150 to be spent for evergreen rock gardens around each of the city's three new welcome signs and approved a motion naming Mrs. Coral Gaudet chairman of a Beautification Commission to plant flowers and shrubs along major streets in the city.

The aldermen also approved two applications for privilege licenses, one for Herbert Smith to operate a television repair service out of his home at Amar and Hart Streets, and one for a Drive-In restaurant at the corner of Ladner Road and Hwy. 90 in the name of Mrs. Cheryl Alphonso.

Gov. Waller to attend ceremonies

An announcement was made today by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce that Governor William Waller has accepted an invitation to be the principal speaker at its quarterly Membership Meeting on June 18.

The banquet meeting is set for the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club and attendance is limited to members and their guests.

It was further learned that Governor Waller will be present for groundbreaking ceremonies at Buccaneer State Park on the same date. Also expected to be on hand for the event, scheduled for 6 p.m. at the park site in Waveland, are state Park Commission officials as well as state legislators.

Mrs. Waller has been extended an invitation to both affairs and the Chamber has high hopes that Mississippi's First Lady will also be able to attend.

Passing the checks

Hancock county officials pass checks for membership in Mobile-Medic Ambulance Service, Inc. to Burt Patterson, left, company representative, at a Tuesday board of supervisors meeting, after the board passed a motion endorsing the new firm. Officials are, from left, board attorney Sam Favre, Sheriff Sylvan Ladner, standing, Dolph Keller, Bully Zengartling, Jerry Ladner, and seated, Chancery Clerk John Rutherford, James Travira and Oscar Peterson.

Carver loses parks argument

Controversy over a $5,000 appropriation to the Bay St. Louis Parks and Playgrounds Commission ended to the dissatisfaction of Mayor Warren Carver Monday with the city's two commissioners overruling the mayor's objections to making the appropriation.

Commissioners Lucien Kidd and Clarence Ladner said they were honoring a previous commitment made last September by both the mayor and themselves during a joint meeting with the Parks and Playgrounds Commission to discuss the pending budget of the commission.

Carver said Monday that he had no recollection of making any promise of additional funds to the commission during the meeting at the Wheel Inn and voted against the motion by Ladner to give the commission $5,000.

The mayor said he was under the impression that a disbursement of $5,000 in January 1973 by the former city administration was to be used for the 1973-74 fiscal year.

Richard Thames, parks commissioner, rebutted the mayor. Carver, he said, knew that this money had been used for the 1972-73 budget year by the commission because he had asked for a detailed audit of all the commission's expenditures.

"The mayor," he said, "has a convenient memory."

A budget of $25,450 submitted by the Parks Commission last Sept. 17 and approved by the council was later trimmed to $16,158.55 before becoming a part of the city budget in October.

Ladner said that the mayor and commissioners agreed then that $5,000 from revenue sharing funds would be given to the parks to bolster the $16,158 that it was determined millage would bring the commission.

In other business the council accepted an offer by Associated Consultants, Inc., Bay St. Louis, to do a cost estimate for renumbering streets and houses within the city limits.

Richard Simmons told the council that the firm would do a study proposal offering three alternatives for numbering homes at a cost of $100 to $150, but met opposition from Councilman Ladner who said that the city didn't need to spend money on a study to tell what they already knew they wanted.

Ladner suggested the city forego having the firm do any study and employ them only for the actual numbering.

Waveland man charged with wife's murder

A Waveland man was arrested by city police Tuesday afternoon and charged with the May 14 shooting death of his wife.

Robert E. Bardin, Sr., 49, was arrested about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday by Waveland Asst. Police Chief Donald Dorn and Ptn. Terry Holmes, following an intensive investigation of the case by the two policemen and Highway Patrol Special Investigator Travis Lott.

Mrs. Grace Janette Bardin, 49, was found shot to death in the couple's Pine Ridge Drive home. Mrs. Bardin was discovered lying on the bed shot through the heart, the gun lying on the floor several feet from her outstretched hand.

The death was at first thought to be suicide, but after further investigation the murder charge was brought against her husband.

A writ of habeas corpus hearing was held in the Hancock County court house Wednesday afternoon under the jurisdiction of the district attorney's office.

A preliminary hearing has been scheduled for June 20 before Waveland police justice Lucien Gex. Bardin is being held without bond in the county jail.

Summer jobs funded for disadvantaged youth

Governor Bill Waller announced this week that a $5,872,000 summer employment program for disadvantaged youths began Monday. He said the program, which will serve some 6500 youngsters, will run for a period of eleven weeks ending by August 18.

"This program," Governor Waller said, "is designed to help the economically disadvantaged young people of our state by giving them an opportunity to make enough money during the summer to stay in school."

Governor Waller said the program, financed by a grant from the Manpower Division of the United States Department of Labor, will be coordinated through the Governor's Office of Education and Training. The program will provide jobs in 80 of Mississippi's 82 counties. The only two counties not included in the state program are Hinds and Rankin, which have a separate program coordinated by the Jackson Mayor's Office.

In 52 counties the program will be sponsored by various Community Action agencies and single-purpose agencies which traditionally have been involved in such programs; and the Employment Service will sponsor the program in the other 28 counties.

Known officially as the Summer Program for Economically Disadvantaged Youth (SPEDY) the program will benefit persons 14 through 21. Each participant may work a maximum of ten weeks and will be paid the recently effective federal minimum wage of $2 per hour.

The job sites will include hospitals, schools, public and private non-profit day-care centers, governmental agencies and other non-profit agencies. The governmental agencies include those at the federal, state, county and community level.

Monitoring of SPEDY for the 80 counties involved will be carried out by the staff of the Governor's Office of Education and Training.

Dr. Baxter, Executive Director of the Governor's Office of Education and Training, pointed out that the term "economically disadvantaged" means a member of a family which receives cash welfare payments or has an annual income at or below the poverty level. "This level varies from $1,990 to $2,330 for a family of one to a range of between $5,750 and $6,700 for a family of seven, depending upon various factors," he said.

MEC to probe state's seafood industry

The Mississippi Economic Council will make an in-depth study of the state's seafood industry this year with an eye for identifying problems that have caused the industry to decline during the past few years.

The Council's Resource Development Committee

Chairman W. M. Beasley of Tupelo said, "There appears to be a need for a close look at the seafood industry in Mississippi."

The Tupelo businessman said that Mississippi's entire $55 to $80 million seafood industry, including the important shrimp and oyster fisheries, is facing major problems that need immediate attention.

Beasley said the Resource Development Committee last week in its initial meeting of the business-year, heard reports from Dr. Charles Lyles of the Gulf Coast Research Lab, and Dr. David C. Veal of Mississippi State University on some of the problems facing the seafood industry.

Dr. Lyles pointed out that landings of shrimp are increasing in other Gulf states but are decreasing in Mississippi. Lyles said that one factor in the demise of Mississippi shrimp fisheries is the lack of large, modern vessels to withstand rough seas - leaving Mississippi shrimpers in a noncompetitive position with other Gulf states.

Lyles said that the overriding problem that has adversely affected the oyster fishery stemmed from the dumping of untreated sanitary sewage into the Mississippi Sound.

children, passengers in her car, was hurt. Ponder, who is the pressman for the Sea Coast Echo in the Bay, was admitted to the hospital with injured ribs, cuts and abrasions of the arms and legs.

Both drivers were cited for failure to yield right of way, Ladner said. A hearing has been set for June 18 before Justice of the Peace Joseph Dobson. Assisting in the accident were units from the sheriff's office, Bay and Waveland police and constables Terry Tartavouille and Sam Pernicaro.

Both cars were demolished, Ladner reported.

La. man beaten and robbed on Hiway 607

Two Florida youths, one a juvenile, are held without bond in Hancock County jail today for the robbery-beating of a New Orleans man.

Billy Dwight Parvin, 29, told Hancock Sheriff Sylvan Ladner Monday that he had picked up James W. Burner, 20, and a 17-year-old male companion hitchhiking on Interstate 10 just out of the New Orleans city limits.

Parvin, who was driving a 1973 El Camino, said the two youths told him they were on their way to Mobile. Just past the I-10 and Miss. Highway 607 intersection he said he pulled off the road at their request. The two men then jumped him, Parvin reported, and beat him severely with their fists and a board.

After tying his hands with his belt, the pair left Parvin beside the road and drove off in his truck.

An all-points bulletin for the two men led to their arrest about 6 p.m. Monday night by Highway Patrolmen in Pascagoula.

Parvin was taken to Hancock General Hospital where he was treated and released. Returned to Hancock County, the two are held in the county jail without bond on charges of grand larceny (auto theft) and assault and battery with intent to kill.

The sheriff's office said that Burner is on a three-year probation and both men are wanted by Florida authorities. They both gave Crestview, Fla. addresses. A preliminary hearing has been set for June 10 before Justice of the Peace Donald Carr.

Mint appeals for return of the penny

"I'm calling on every American to get the penny back in circulation and keep it there," said Mrs. Mary Brooks, Director of the Mint.

"I'm calling on the banking industry to welcome the return of pennies during the month of June. I'm urging schools, churches and charities to examine ways and means to involve their members in collecting pennies for deposit."

The price of copper has retreated, closing at $1.15 per pound on May 20, Mrs. Brooks said. There will be no aluminum penny. The 62 billion pennies produced during the past 15 years have no numismatic value and because of the huge mintage they will never attain great value.

Nevertheless, speculators and hoarders of pennies have caused what seems to be a shortage of pennies in certain areas of the country.

But there is no shortage of a supply of pennies.

Creating a shortage where it does not exist can adversely affect every public spirited citizen, taxpayer and conservator of the earth's resources, the director stated. It is inflationary should merchants start to round off sales to the next nickel due to lack of pennies to make change.

"Again, I'd like to emphasize. There are plenty of pennies. But they are in the wrong places," she said.

"It is estimated that over 30 billion pennies are in circulation - doing the job for which they were intended.

Somewhere in this vast country of ours, however, in excess of 30 billion pennies are in hiding. There are the pennies I'm looking for. They are in dresser drawers, shoe boxes, pickle jars; most anyplace you can think of that will get them out of pocket and out of sight. They are unwanted, unused and unappreciated.

"For the Mint to be forced to continue increasing its penny production to meet the current extraordinary demand is wasteful. Wasteful of a natural resource - copper - that cannot be replenished by man. And wasteful of the taxpayers' hard earned money. One billion pennies returned to circulation will save the taxpayers $10,000,000.

"The current price and supply of copper allows us to continue production and distribution of the copper bearing cent. During the past 15 years, the Mint has pumped out over 62 million pennies using some 202,000 tons of copper in their manufacture."

This year alone the Mint expects to use 33,000 tons of copper in cent production - making about 35 million pennies each working day.

individual or group responsible.

Obviously, this campaign to get the penny back in circulation will require the cooperation of the banks in forwarding the names to be cited for an award to Mary Brooks, Director of the Mint, 55 Mint St., San Francisco, Calif., 94175.

Coast Electric meeting set

Coast Electric Power Association will hold its Annual Membership Meeting on June 8.

The Bill Anderson Show will immediately follow the Melody Makers.

Bd. makes payment

The Hancock County School Board Tuesday approved payment of $30,600 to Terry Feeney, Inc. for a wastewater treatment plant at Hancock North Central School after reviewing a letter from project engineer Frank Dunaway approving the payment request.

Board attorney Joseph Gex advised the board to make the payment after noting that the contractor had performed all the work satisfactorily and submitted the payment request last March 20.

Members of the board, who indicated that they were anxious to resolve the matter which had become the subject of recent bickering because of delays in approving the work, hinted that they were dissatisfied with the engineer's handling of the affair.

"I think we're just about done with Dunaway," one board member purred.

In other business the board approved two recommendations submitted by principals James Baldree, Charles B. Murphy School, and J. D. Penion, Gulfview School, for two temporary employees to organize, edit, and do proof reading of self evaluations.

The board hired David H. Stockstill and Mrs. Beatrice Ladner for a period of four weeks at a salary of $100 a week for C. B. Murphy and Gulfview School respectively.

Feed grain farmers urged to sign up

All feed grain farmers in Pearl River and Hancock Counties are urged to sign up to participate in the 1974 Feed Grain Program before July 15, said Madelyn R. Williams, acting county executive director of Pearl River-Hancock County ASCS Office. Although there are no farm set-aside payments, farmers can still benefit from sign-up this year. Farmer sign-ups and certification can be completed in one step. Acreage certification in the feed grain program makes farmers eligible for benefits that include allotment preservation and eligibility for commodity loans. The program also offers a new disaster payment provision. The Department of Agriculture, under certain conditions, will make payments for prevented planting and for yield losses due to natural disasters. Disaster payments are applicable to wheat, feed grain and upland cotton only.

Small fry attending the First Baptist Church Vacation Bible School in Bay St. Louis last week were treated to a picnic Friday, wrapping up the week's activities. Movies of the school will be shown at the church Sunday night.

Committee endorses ambulance service

After an in-depth study of the alternatives of providing emergency medical service in the West Harrison-Hancock County area, members of the West Harrison-Hancock County Emergency Medical Services Committee have issued the following statement:

"After all methods were discussed, a private corporation with a public subscription base and a fee for service for non-members was selected as the method most likely to provide high quality comprehensive emergency medical services at the least cost to the citizenry. This method has had dramatic success in one area in Louisiana.

"Through a joint checking account for disbursement of subscription funds, incorporation of the enterprise, a buy-sell agreement on the equipment purchased and the recent State EMS Legislation, we believe that the public interest is adequately protected.

"If the current subscription drive is successful, no tax monies will be required for emergency medical service. "The success of this undertaking is vital to the health of the community. The West Harrison-Hancock County Emergency Medical Services Committee urges continued endorsement and active support of the Mobile-Medic Ambulance Service, Inc. subscription drive." Committee members are Harvis Cuevas, N.C. Bowden, George Mixon, John Rester, Dr. Magruder S. Corban, Jimmy Jenkins, Dr. Andrew Martinovich and Donald McIntyre.

Bible School movies to be shown

Certificates will be awarded to each child enrolled in Vacation Bible School.

There was an average daily attendance of 158, with a total enrollment of 190 for the morning sessions which included age 3 through grade 6. There were 27 enrolled in the grade 7-12 group which met at night with an average attendance of 15.

Each day the children and young people had a variety of exciting experiences including Bible Study, story time, games, crafts and refreshments. To climax a full week, the church sponsored a picnic for everyone at 11:30 Friday morning with individual picnic sack lunches and fruit punch for each served by the staff.

These movies will be shown at 7 p.m. June 9. Parents, relatives, and friends of the children who attended will be interested in viewing the scenes taken throughout the week and are cordially invited to the showing.

New CG commandant named

Admiral Owen Wesley Siler, 52, became the 15th Commandant of the Coast Guard, in recent ceremonies in Washington, D. C. He relieved Admiral Chester R. Bender, Commandant for the past four years, who retired.

Siler, born in Seattle, Wash., and a graduate of high school and junior college in Santa Maria, Calif., will lead the 38,000 member Coast Guard for the next four years.

A World War II combat veteran, the Admiral was sworn in by Claude S. Brinegar, Secretary of Transportation. The Coast Guard, a major agency of the Department of Transportation, is the only military service not part of the Defense Department.

With his appointment to the Coast Guard's top position Siler assumes the rank of full admiral. At the time he was nominated to become Commandant, earlier this year, he was one of the Coast Guard's junior rear admirals.

For the past three years he commanded the Second Coast Guard District, headquarters in St. Louis, Mo., directing the bulk of the Coast Guard's extensive and diverse operations on the vast inland waterways of the United States.

Siler graduated from the Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn., in 1943 and served as a deck officer on ships in the Pacific theatre during the War, where he participated in the invasion of Bougainville and the occupation of Japan.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

Down by the mouth of the Pearl River there is a small area known from time immemorial as Poverty Point. This was the scene of Indian activities for hundreds of years, and the artifacts and other relics which have been discovered there show that the "Poverty Point Indian culture" is one of the most important archeological factors in America.

According to Richard Marshall, noted tracer of ancient civilizations through the detritus their people have left, the hills back from the Mississippi coast have been inhabited for more than ten thousand years, and the Coast itself for more than four thousand years. Most importantly, the Poverty Point Indian culture has been pegged to the late Archaic Period, which ended about 1000 B.C.

Fortunately for history, this Indian culture included a religious observance marked by the building of huge mounds in which were buried deceased members of the tribe along with many of their household possessions. The excavation of many of these mounds over a long period has been the source of much knowledge of Indian life and customs, as well as of the development of the territory itself.

For some reason, unexplained by Prof. Marshall, no attention was paid to the big mound, and several lesser ones, in the Poverty Point area. As a result, the mound, when we first saw it several years ago, was just an unkept pile of rubble marked by a number of small holes where amateur diggers had burrowed into it; goodness knows what they found, but Prof. Marshall mourns that archaeological sites such as this one throughout the State are being badly damaged or destroyed due to a "lack of appreciation and understanding."

Probably true; but what puzzles us is the fact that the big Poverty Point mound (as well as the smaller ones at Napoleon, Logtown, and in the heart of Bay St. Louis itself) was left to weather away for hundreds of years, and that when it importance was finally recognized by our State archaeologists nothing more was done than the posting of a few "No Trespassing" signs. It is difficult to see how the few inept diggings on the mound could "badly damage or destroy" the vast amount of material which must still be uncovered in the heart of the mound. Or still more difficult to understand is why the experts at Jackson leave this priceless treasure unattended and unexplored and wide open to the spade of any digger who isn't afraid of a "No Trespassing sign."

THE GOOD LIFE

When I was making a round of speeches during the Memorial Day Weekend, I spoke frequently of the good life in South Mississippi.

We've got a lot going for us, I pointed out. We're better off than most other sections of the country.

You can understand my interest, then, when a pile of supporting evidence landed on my desk last week. Someone has done a study, it seems, and South Mississippi comes out smelling like a rose.

Consider, if you will, the fact that the average age of the Fifth Congressional District residents is just a shade over 40 years. And we're well-educated, too, with an average of 11.9 years of formal education.

Add to that the fact that the median family income is $7,053 and you get a good idea of the quality of life in our area.

The Fifth Congressional District, friends, gets a higher rating in almost every category than any other congressional district in the state. In addition, we rank high in comparison with other districts in the South as well as the nation.

We have good jobs, as supported by the statistic that 42 per cent of our working force hold white collar jobs while 43 per cent hold blue collar jobs. Then, too, our unemployment is below the national average.

If you're worried about not getting your fair share of government money in return for the high taxes you pay, take a look at these statistics:

The national average of federal funds spent per person is $1,278.06 per year. In the Fifth Congressional District last year, the feds spent some $1,962.83 per person -- some $700 MORE per person than the national average!

Breaking that down into individual government agencies, it is interesting to note that the Department of Defense spent $1,250.66 per person in our district in Fiscal Year 1973. Compare that with the national average of $322.15.

That's due in part, of course, to the military installations -- the Seabee Base, Keesler Air Force Base, Camp Shelby -- plus the big shipyard in Pascagoula.

To put it in better perspective, defense spending ALONE in the Fifth District almost equaled TOTAL federal spending on the national average.

One particular statistic that struck me as interesting and disturbing involved the Postal Service. In Fiscal Year 1973, it spent $45.70 per person on a national average -- but we got only $24.17 per person in the Fifth District.

And even though we have a large number of residents with Small Business Administration loans due to recent disasters, we got only $6.68 per person from SBA compared with a national average of $9.11.

We did come out better than the national average on Department of Transportation spending. We got $45.36 per person while the national average was $39.46.

Finally, we doubled the national average in funds from NASA, obviously because of the Mississippi Test Facility in Hancock County. We got $28.76 per person while the national average was $14.70.

It goes on and on, but the point is still clear. We're progressive in the Fifth Congressional District. And we're proud of it.

Gentlemen:

I believe it would be appropriate to have an article in your paper concerning the proposed "Marina" to be located where the American Legion pier is now, is WRONG.

This would be a "shot in the arm" to the local merchants if located in the town, NOT at the American Legion pier. The local merchants would be slapped in the face if the officials did not think of them and locate it where it is now proposed.

Why have a town of stores? To have the local merchants barely make a living? Give them the chance they deserve and locate the "Marina" in the center of the local merchants.

Sincerely,
Julian Swoop Hillery

Dear Sir:

Hope I'm not a bother to you with my continued letter writing; this one may be the final; however I feel compelled to write this since it was a special request about an act of atrocious cruelty upon a helpless dumb beast.

The Foster Luke family reported a serious burn on the leg of their pet beagle. Their Vet. doctor diagnosed it as either a chemical burn or from scalding water.

Now perhaps the perpetrator of this nefarious cowardly act is not aware there are fines and prison incarceration for deeds of cruelty to all animals. If the public wishes a printing of them, I can mail them to you for publication.

The owners having no known enemies, are at a loss to understand, why anyone would commit such a gross inhumane act.

Very Sincerely,
Eleanor E. McFie

DAIRY MONTH

June is Dairy Month! This is the month for all of us to join forces and show our appreciation for the greatest health-giving, food-manufacturing machine known to mankind--The Milk Cow.

The best way to show our appreciation for milk and milk products is to use more milk and milk products daily--all through the year. In this way, we do not only help the dairy industry remain strong, but also help ourselves and families to maintain health and happiness.

Milk is one of nature's most perfect single foods. It is outstanding as a source of calcium, protein, Vitamin A, and riboflavin. These are milk's big four. In addition, there are a dozen or more other nutrients present in smaller amounts; these are important because they are not always obtained in desirable amounts from other foods.

If we put the cost of milk on a nutritional basis, it is almost impossible to find its equal. Milk is a far more concentrated food than many of us realize. We think of milk as a liquid not much above the consistency of water. It actually contains 13 percent solids by weight--more than many of the so-called "solid" foods.

The quality of milk has been improved in recent years because it is produced under more sanitary conditions--nearly all of it is pasteurized and much of it is homogenized with Vitamin D added and is kept at proper temperatures during the marketing and merchandising process.

You get a lot for your food dollar when you buy milk and milk products. Let's show our appreciation to the dairy industry for their contribution to a healthier life by using more milk and dairy products all through the coming year.

Chamber Report

By Sylvia McCombskey
Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Manager

The membership drive is now underway for Mobile-Medic Ambulance Service, a privately owned corporation that will provide the most advanced emergency ambulance service to Hancock and West Harrison County residents. This drive will continue for six weeks and the fee of $15 per family will provide in-County service to the entire family for a full year. With discontinuance of our present ambulance service an inevitable fact, the Chamber of Commerce urges support of this new program that will provide this vital service to our area. Membership forms are available at all local banks and may we suggest that you pick one up today.

The Hancock County Blood Bank will have a drawing on Wednesday, June 12 from 2 until 8 p.m. at the American Legion Home. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 69 who is physically able is urged to go and give a pint of blood. It is easy, it is important, it is a way to help your community.

The Chamber of Commerce will hold its mid-year membership banquet Tuesday, June 18 at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. Governor William Waller will be the guest speaker and we look forward to an interesting evening. All Chamber members are urged to make reservations at their earliest convenience.

Spring is certainly bustling and all over in Bay St. Louis, thanks chiefly to the work of Felix Seeger, superintendent of public grounds, and his employees who have spent hours planting shrubs and flowering plants along the right of ways from the Bay Bridge to Second Street. Appreciation of their work can be enjoyed by any motorist that travels through the city.

An Invitation to help - RSVP

Ed. note: This is another in a series of articles on RSVP, Retired Senior Volunteer Program serving Hancock County. The series is authored by Mrs. Ethel Evans, a member of the organization, and accompanying cartoons are by Mrs. Bertha Glani of Pass Christian.)

Mr. and Mrs. VIV (which, of course stands for Very Important Volunteers) was the winning name chosen for the couple who portray the leaders of the various areas in which RSVP functions. It was suggested by Mrs. Ruth Maumus, and we offer her our congratulations!

Today, for the first time, we are showing you Mr. VIV in action. He is working with the Bay St. Louis superintendent of Public Grounds and Sanitation, showing other volunteers how to become horticultural experts! And they are rapidly becoming just that as they learn how to pot up seedlings, air-layer plants and root cuttings. All this activity takes place each Wednesday and Thursday morning at 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. in an area at the V. C.

Jones Center now designated as the city greenhouse.

Not only are the volunteers learning by doing, they are accomplishing an even greater result for the potted seedlings and cuttings are later planted all around the city where needed. That is truly a two-fold accomplishment — the volunteers learn for their own self-education and then use that knowledge to make the city more beautiful for others. If you are interested in becoming part of this group, call the RSVP office at the number given below.

A beautiful patio is gradually coming into being as the volunteer workers plant shrubs and annuals around an area adjoining the greenhouse. The plans are for a place where all senior citizens and visitors may gather to enjoy sunshine, fresh air and each other in a setting of lovely green and blooming plants. Badly needed, at this point, are concrete benches so those coming can sit and enjoy the patio. If you have one (or more) to donate, please phone Mrs. Fisher (RSVP Director) at 467-9204.

Senior Citizens Happenings

by Don Mauffray
Hancock county
Activity Direc.

Inasmuch as the month of May was proclaimed Senior Citizens' Month, we had many extra activities and socials. All of the local churches sponsored a social on Sunday, May 19, which we proclaimed locally as "Senior Citizens' Sunday."

Our Lady of the Gulf Church had a dance with Tip Johnson and his band furnishing the music. The CYO boys and girls sponsored games with free prizes and refreshments. There were approximately 80 Senior Citizens in attendance.

St. Rose de Lima Church held a breakfast with around 55 in attendance.

Main Street Methodist Church had a salad luncheon for their Senior Citizens with around 35 in attendance.

St. Clare's of Waveland and St. Ann's of Clermont Harbor sponsored similar programs with approximately 50 attending each of these.

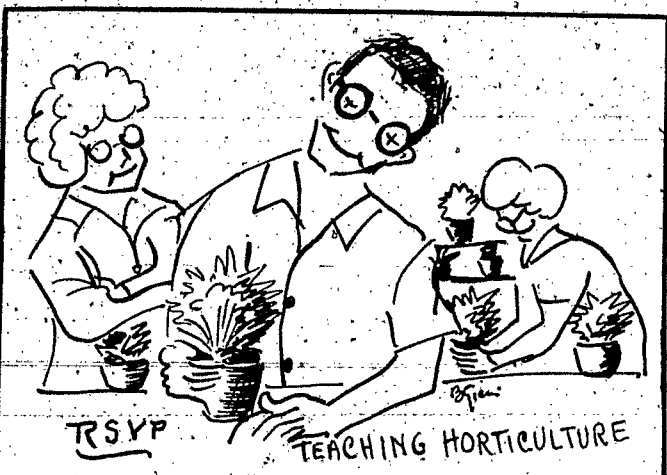

Another highlight of May was the Senior Citizens' Parade in Biloxi. The Bay St. Louis group went in a convoy of about ten cars to Pass Christian where we had a picnic spread at their Memorial Park; then on to Biloxi.

On our return from Biloxi Mrs. Katie Luc, who is 84 years old, has ten children, and innumerable grandchildren and great-children, remarked, "Would you believe that this is the first parade I've ever been in and I'm 84 years old. I've never had so much fun in all my life."

With all these activities going on, our volunteer hours totaled over 500.

The ladies from Kiln Center made $230 on their quilt raffle. We will use this money to take a trip on the Steamer "President" in New Orleans.

Volunteers honored

The staff and participants of the senior citizens' congregational meal program honored approximately 25 members of their crew of volunteers at the Valena C. Jones Center in Bay St. Louis.

The staff and beneficiaries of the program turned the tables on the volunteers, who are themselves chiefly senior citizens of the community, and served luncheon to the group. Volunteers were also presented with fresh flower corsages and name tags and seated at a table of honor.

Volunteers in the program give of their time to help Mrs. Margaret Keen, site manager, serve an average of 50 meals Monday through Friday at the V.C. Jones Senior Citizens Center.

The volunteers have given a total of 1,580 hours since the inception of the program on Nov. 19, 1973. Over 800 of these hours were given by people working through the R.S.V.P. program.

Mrs. Keen said volunteers serve in many different capacities. "They put the food on plates and serve the tables," she said. "They help clean the tables and wash the pots. They provide transportation. They bring fresh flowers for the tables and they phone members who have not attended in a while to check on their well being."

"In addition," she said, "they help with program activities. They are a vital part of the overall program. We couldn't operate without them."

If gas pains persist, try Volkswagen.

AVW goes a long way in relieving gas problems — by getting terrific gas mileage.

It also relieves those little headaches — by needing pints of oil instead of quarts. And not needing antifreeze because of its air-cooled engine.

Plus it gets rid of nervous upsets due to owning a new car. With Volkswagen's Owner's Security Blanket, you're provided with the best care any car can have...in sickness and in health.

The fact is that Volkswagen can cure lots of problems that most cars can't.

Maybe you should take two.

Junior Auxiliary annual projects set

The Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary held its regular meeting June 3 at the Webb Community Center.

Discussed at this meeting were plans for service to the City-County Public Library during the summer months. Junior Auxiliary members will serve as storytellers at the library's Story Hour. Story Hour will be held each Friday morning from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. for youngsters aged 3 to 6. All children within our community are invited to attend. Other service to the library will include participation in the Summer One to One Reading Program being sponsored by the Friends of the Library. In addition to Junior Auxiliary volunteers, additional volunteers are desperately needed. No special training is required. Youths and adults, male and female, who have a minimum of one hour per week to LISTEN to a child read are encouraged to contact the program chairman, Mrs. Diane Douglas, 467-3228.

When the famous Artrain arrives in Gulfport, June 20th thru 25th, Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary members will join other coast Junior Auxiliary chapters and the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council in contributing service to our community by serving as volunteer guides.

The train, described as a museum on wheels, contains an outstanding collection of arts and crafts. The 6-cars of the touring art exhibit, prepared and presented by the Michigan Council of Arts, contain various film and slide programs (with music and narration) to familiarize one with the importance of art in our society; an exhibition of art work by contemporary artists; and a Studio Car, where resident artist and invited local artists work in various media. The train, located at the old L. & N Depot in Gulfport, will be open free of charge to the public starting June 20th.

Other business of key importance was the adoption of financial projects for the year. Projects approved were: a "Western Dinner" in July; an "Our Favorite Recipes" Luncheon featuring samples of recipes from the Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary Cookbook, scheduled for August; a "Back to School Party" in September; a Santa's House in December; and an Easter Style Show and Auction in the spring.

Mrs. Joseph Gex, president, announced project chairmen for the organization's various service projects: Geriatrics, Mrs. John Rosetti; Clothes Closet, Mrs. Thomas Kidd; Artrain, Mrs. Lucien Gex, Jr.; Children's Television Workshop campaign, Mrs. S. Wayne Murphy; Bay St. Louis Centennial Coloring Book, Mrs. Walter Gex, III; Library, Mrs. John Ginn; Exceptional Children's Workshop, Co-Chairmen, Mrs. Ernest Douglas, Mrs. Frances Parrish, and Mrs. Sheldon Seuzeneau, II; Safety Town and Street Sign, Mrs. James Woodfin; Vagabond Marionettes, Mrs. Robert R. Kane; Children's Theatre, Mrs. Nicholas Haas; Donations and Husband's Appreciation Night, Mrs. Thomas Kidd; Luncheon for Children's Center students, Mrs. Edgar Santa Cruz, Jr.

Governor's committee to study teacher, school financing

Governor Bill Waller announced last week at his weekly press conference the creation of a 30-member blue ribbon committee to study not only the matter of teachers' pay but also other aspects of school financing.

Waller said, "The creation of this committee will aid in an early solution to the teacher pay question."

"I think management is the question in the teachers' pay raise, and expert management of the school dollar could give the teachers a pay increase without a tax increase," he added. "Every school district in the state can levy 25 mills and, with a special election, can go to 28 mills or higher. The fact is that only 12 are at 28 mills or higher and only 10 are at their maximum allowable tax levy."

However, the Governor pointed out, the number of mills of school tax levy doesn't mean very much if property in the county is assessed at only 10 percent of value. He said, "As long as property is assessed at such a low ratio to value in many counties, our teachers will continue being the lowest paid in the nation."

The Governor reiterated his promise to call a special session when the money is available. He said this would be one of the main matters under consideration by the committee.

Traffic signs changed

Motorists in Bay St. Louis, used to years of Ulman and Carroll avenues being through streets from north to south, and Main street having four-way stops at almost every corner, are having a hard time adjusting to the changes in street direction signs, recently effected by the city.

The city police department reminds drivers that Second street is now a through street from Highway 90 to the traffic light at Main, and Main street now has only two stop points from the beach to Highway 90. Driving from the beach on Main, the traffic light remains at Second street and the only remaining four-way stop is at Touline street.

Release necessary for home sales vets are warned

The Veterans Administration warns veterans and servicemen who sell homes purchased with GI loans to make certain they obtain a "release from liability" if the purchaser assumes their loans.

Reasons for disposing of the property, provided the GI loan has been paid in full. Where purchasers agree to assume loans, Witt urged veterans to apply promptly for a release from VA offices which guaranteed their loans.

Miss US Teen contestants sought

Girls between the ages of 13 through 19 who live in the Bay St. Louis area are being sought as possible contestants in the fifth annual national finals of the Miss US Teen pageants, set for Friday through Sunday, July 26-28 in Lake Charles, La.

No talent or swimsuit competition is involved and any girl living in an area where no official Miss US Teen preliminaries have been held, is eligible so long as she is at least 13 but must not be 20 before July 29. She must be unmarried. Entry information is available by writing to Miss U.S. Teen, P.O. Box 1014, Lake Charles, La. 70601.

Miss U.S. Teen is not a "beauty contest" though looks are a factor. Judging is done under a point system taking into consideration such factors as scholastic achievement, service to church and community, poise, personality, grooming, etc.

Joint meeting set for Bayside Park

Robot, anyone?

As a follow-up activity, each student was asked to make a robot of his own choice. Judges were chosen to decide the winners. The judges were Mrs. Randall, Mrs. Piernas, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Gallagher, P.C.

Winners were first place, Dawn Sessum; second place, Jeffrey La Force; third place, Michelle Johnson.

The three runners-up were Alvin McKay, Anna Swanier and Ben Hullender. The project was under the supervision of Mrs. Minnie Ausmer, teacher.

Funds received for Coast sports fishing

Grants totaling almost $25,000 have been received by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Southern Mississippi, through the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium.

Dr. D. C. Williams, bureau head, reports a $20,000 grant will fund the continuation of a project whose basic objective is to estimate the value of artificial reefs.

Citing the popularity of fishing as a recreation form, Williams said there "is interest in establishing more public reefs along the Gulf Coast to improve sports fishing."

The second grant, for $24,935, is for continuation of a Coastal Leaders Project. Program goals include provision of a way for coast people to express the needs of their area; and to assist local residents in solving problems of interest to them.

This project is being conducted by Dr. Williams, Dr. David Etzold, Mrs. Nell Murray, and Charles Cartee, of the Bureau of Business Research.

The sports fishing program is being conducted primarily by Dr. Donnie L. Daniel, BBR, assisted by Dr. Williams and Joe Seward, with the funding agency which is headquartered in Ocean Springs.

IN THE USAC "MILES-PER-GALLON SHOWDOWN,"

DART SPORT BEATS NOVA BY 8.1 MPG.

Dodge CHRYSLER
AUTHORIZED DEALERS

HERE ARE THE OFFICIAL RESULTS!

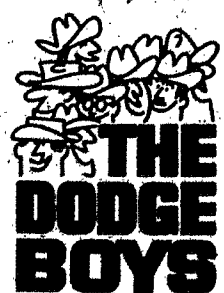

We wanted to know what our Dodge cars would do in gas economy in situations as close to actual driving conditions as possible. At the same time, we wanted to know how well Dodge would do against the competition's cars—cars of comparable size and even smaller.

The United States Auto Club (USAC) conducted its "Miles-Per-Gallon Showdown" in the Arizona-Southern California area between January 10 and 13, 1974. All automobiles used in the test were acquired by USAC through normal retail channels. Many of the drivers were sports car enthusiasts and amateur rallyists. However, none were professional automobile drivers.

The "Showdown" was divided into three distinct driving cycles:

1. Highway driving. Los Angeles to Tucson and return. A total distance of 972 miles. Average speed, 53 mph.
2. Light city traffic. Los Angeles area. 103 miles, total. Average speed, 25 mph.
3. Heavy city traffic. Los Angeles area. 61 miles, total. Average speed, 20 mph.

A Dart Sport coupe with the new standard 2.76 rear axle, 225 Slant Six engine, and manual transmission got 8.1 more miles per gallon than a six-cylinder Nova with manual transmission in the "light city traffic" cycle. The Dart Sport also got better mileage than the Nova in the other two driving cycles.

A special guest

The council also accepted a proposal from Mayor Carver to ask the Mississippi Research and Development Center in Gulfport to submit alternate schematics for the city's proposed pier and marina before submitting an application for funds to the Mississippi State Parks and Recreation Commission.

The suggestion by Carver was made after Commissioner Kidd presented the council with copies of a master plan prepared by the firm of Burk & Associates, Inc., for the pier and marina.

Kidd said that the city needed only to submit two copies of the master plan to the parks and recreation commission to constitute the city's application for 50 percent matching funds for the proposed development.

Burk & Associates recommended that the city obtain a minimum of a 49-year lease on property owned by the American Legion at the foot of Washington Street where the proposed pier would be constructed and preferably strive for a 99-year lease. Such a long term lease, they said, would enhance the city's chances for receiving the matching funds.

In other business the council accepted a bid of $14,558.45 from Coastal Machinery Co. of Gulfport for a model JD401-B John Deere tractor and slope mower with delivery either Thursday or Friday. —took under advisement four bids received for exterior repairs and waterproofing of the City Hall. Included were Western Waterproofing Company, Metairie, La., $7,348 plus $6 per linear foot for replacing downspouts; Associated Waterproofing Corp., Baton Rouge for $7,480 plus an alternative $750 for cleaning and coating of the front porch deck and $5.50 per linear foot for new downspouts; Parker & Associates Inc., Jackson, Miss. for $4,700; and Mid Continental Waterproofing Co. of Fort Scott, Kansas for $4,900.

—charged city attorney Joseph Gex to investigate the city's rights in using water lines on the Carroll Avenue extension paid for by residents and used by the city to gather revenue from other customers beyond these lines.

—asked attorney Gex to research what methods other Coastal cities employ to grant exceptions to garbage pickup fees where residents are charged without receiving such service.

—tabled a request from Police Chief Billy Carbonette to purchase 12 to 15 walkie talkies for use by police, fire, and city council until a determination could be made if the Law Enforcement Assistance Agency would fund the purchase.

Water quality workshop set for June 11

The Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant consortium and the Gulf Coast group of the Sierra Club will sponsor a water quality workshop on June 11 and 12 at the Sheraton-Biloxi Motor Inn.

Made possible by a grant from the Environmental Protection Agency, the workshop will present a variety of speakers from government, industry, the professions and civic clubs to discuss the Federal Water Pollution Control Act and how it may be applied to water quality problems on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

The purpose of the Act is to eliminate all pollutant discharges from navigable waters by 1985. Registration for the two-day workshop will be held from 8 to 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, June 11. All interested persons are urged to attend and participate.

Supervisors . . .

—on Sheriff Sylvan Lader's recommendation, accepted a bid of $3,824.84 from Turan-Lane Chevrolet for the purchase of a patrol car and refused the dealership's offer of $299 to purchase a used vehicle.

—unanimously voted to ratify a Hancock County Fairgrounds Assn. request for a transfer of funds for a new exhibit building.

—heard a warning by Mrs. Marie Brasselman that she and a group of Shoreline Park residents were planning a trip to Jackson for assistance at the state level to stop further pollution of the subdivision by an influx of trailer families, living in the subdivision without adequate sanitary facilities.

Ulman Ave. marina discussed

The proposed small craft harbor at the foot of Ulman Ave. will be discussed tonight in a public meeting by a representative of Burk & Assoc., Inc., consulting engineers for Bay St. Louis, at the Bay Jaycee Hall on N. Beach and deMontuzin St.

All Bay residents interested in details of the harbor are urged to attend the meeting which will begin at 8 p.m. and is sponsored by the organization.

Miss Richardson weds Clayton Thompson

Miss Mari Magdalen Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Richardson of Bay St. Louis, Miss., became the bride of Clayton Eugene Thompson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Sr., also of Bay St. Louis, at a Nuptial Mass at 11 a.m. Saturday, June 1, in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Rev. Elvin Sands, assistant pastor Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Blox, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with arrangements of spring flowers.

Mrs. John McKenna, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Theodore Thomas who sang Ave Maria, The Lord's Prayer and Lord I Am Not Worthy; during the mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk organza over taffeta fashioned with a high neckline and Bishop sleeves trimmed with Chantilly lace. A band of matching lace outlined the Empire waistline. Lace and an organza ruffle formed a bib effect on the bodice and edged the skirt and cathedral length train. Her short veil of illusion fell from a narrow band of flowers and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath interspersed with white ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Shirley Layne, Slidell, La., attended her sister as matron of honor; Miss Linda Kay Thompson, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Miss Tanya Marie Layne, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

They wore A-Line dotted Swiss dresses in pastel shades of yellow, pink and blue and wide brimmed straw hats with matching ribbon streamers. They carried baskets of spring flowers.

Tommy Carver, Bay St. Louis, was best man. Alvin Kingston, Bay St. Louis, was groomsman and Bryan Rodney Thompson, brother of the groom, served as usher. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the American Legion Home. Mrs. Richardson received their guests wearing a floor length melon and lace knit dress and the mother of the groom chose a floor length pastel blue knit dress. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

The bride's table, overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with a three-tiered cake encircled by daisies and fern. Candelabra holding white tapers and arrangements of spring flowers completed the table decorations.

Tall baskets of gladioli, carnations and greenery were in the background.

Mrs. P.J. Morreale, New Orleans, godmother of the bride, was at the punch bowl. The guest register was kept by Mrs. Joseph Richardson Jr.

For traveling the bride chose a red and white print pantsuit. A corsage of red rose buds completed her ensemble.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Gulf Breeze, Florida, the couple will make their home at 408 State Street, Bay St. Louis.

MR. AND MRS. CLAYTON THOMPSON

Monti-Favre vows solemnized

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the May 25 wedding of Miss Terri Ann Monti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Monti of Bay St. Louis, and Edward Alphonse Favre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nellus A. Favre Sr., also of Bay St. Louis.

Very Rev. Gregory Johnson, pastor, celebrant of the Nuptial Mass, performed the 10:30 a.m. double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by vases of pink and white carnations and greenery.

Mrs. John McKenna, organist, played the traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Renaissance style gown of ivory chiffon over taffeta. Venice lace inserted with pink satin ribbon outlined a bib effect on the bodice. Dainty tucks and self buttons defined the bodice. Corresponding lace and ribbon accented the Bishop sleeves and high neckline. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses, white carnations and baby's breath and an amethyst rosary carried by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. James Taconi, at her wedding 51 years ago. Her only jewelry was a gold locket, a gift of the groom.

Miss Elizabeth Monti attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore an A-line floor length dress of ivory organza with pink rose print. A soft double flounce edged with old-fashioned lace accented the round neckline and short sleeves. She carried a wicker basket of shaded pink carnations and baby's breath.

Nellus A. Favre Jr. was best man.

Following the ceremony a small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. For her wedding trip to Florida the bride chose a yellow and white pantsuit. A corsage of yellow rose buds and baby's breath completed her ensemble.

The couple will be at home in Bay St. Louis.

European cruise enjoyed by sisters

The Misses Rachel and Mabel Norgress have returned to New Orleans and Bay St. Louis after a 28-day cruise to England and Mediterranean points aboard the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth II.

The first disembarkment afforded a two and a half day tour of London where the sisters visited Hampton Court and the Yew Gardens at Sandringham, the British monarchs' traditional summer palace.

On the Mediterranean cruise all day tours were arranged at Gibraltar, Barcelona, Cannes and a visit to a ski lodge in the Alps. Other points of interest included a visit to Pompeii, the Amalfi Drive and Sorrento.

Lisbon was less than enjoyable, the sisters wrote, as their arrival followed right after the coup d'etat in government. Soldiers filled the streets and most museums and palaces were closed. However, tours of the Jungle Gardens and a ride to Estoril, playground of deposed monarchs, compensated in part.

As very few of the ship's passengers were Americans (the vast majority were British, Welch and Scot) the sisters entertained with descriptions of Mardi Gras in New Orleans and masked appropriately at a ship's costume ball.

Rachel Norgress has returned to the Bay following a week's stay in New Orleans where she attended several spring luncheons.

New executive

A warm hand of welcome is extended by Cypress District chairman Michael Haas, of Bay St. Louis, to Doug Palmer as he assumes his duties as the District's new full time Scout Executive.

Scouts get executive

Doug Palmer from Lubbock, Texas has assumed his duties as the new full time Scout Executive of the Cypress District, New Orleans Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, which district comprises all of Hancock County and part of St. Tammany Parish, Louisiana.

The district presently has 42 units and serves more than 1,000 boys involved in the Scouting program, according to District Chairman Michael Haas of Bay St. Louis.

Palmer will make his home in Slidell with his wife, Sharri, and their daughter, Bridgette, 6 months. They arrived from Lubbock where Palmer served as District Scout Executive. He holds a B.S. Degree from West Texas State University with majors in Social Sciences, Government, History, English and anthropology, and served in the U. S. Marine Corps.

Haas stated that the district was fortunate in obtaining a professional with Palmer's scouting background in practically all areas of scouting.

Palmer replaces Von Melton who was transferred to Tulsa, Oklahoma.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Dec) Elliott

Although the water in most places is clearing rapidly, especially in Pearl River, black bayou and Mills Bayou the fish are not striking like they should. Don't know what the cause is.

The tide is falling practically all afternoon which is good. We caught some nice perch and a few bass over the weekend. Things just won't seem to get right for good fishing.

As for salt water fishing, speckles were being caught down Bayou Caddy way but they have slackened off. Could be caused by too much fresh water coming this way from Pearl River yet. Those going out to Half Moon and other places in the marsh reported getting some speckles, sheepshead, large croakers etc.

The purpose of this column is to let folks know where fish can be caught, and by whom plus other sports items.

Julian Lloyd Mutter, Sr., grabbed 40 large frogs June 1st after midnight in Louisiana. This was reported by his brother Ben. Julian loves to catch and eat 'em.

John Kendall, 8 years old, made his first boat fishing trip up Jourdan River last Tuesday. He got a kick out of catching some nice size perch. John was using a perch pole and earth worms.

Polly Mazarakis and George Adams played tennis one day last week. Believe it or not, George won. By the hardest!

Thomas German of New Orleans who has a home on Coleman Avenue spends a lot of time fishing and crabbing out in the Bay. He goes on every occasion.

Gene Domain put on a fish fry out of this world at Clarisse's Lounge last Friday night, with all the trimmings. Gene made a lot of his friends happy. He really knows his stuff when it comes to cooking fish.

Jim Justice of New Orleans has a home in Waveland. Does a lot of fishing and crabbing. His fishing partner is Terrell Bourgoin. Made a trip the past weekend.

Harry Tracy claims he loves bowling best-but also-fishes. Harry does mostly salt water fishing out in front of Waveland. Gets his share of the finny tribe.

A.J. "Tony" Caranna, an attorney, is a good fisherman, too. He does his fishing by wading out in the Gulf. Tony's favorite fishing spots are Grand Goshet and Britton Island, we were told.

Harry O'Neal gets a kick out of fishing and crabbing and does a lot of it. Harry who is retired is from New Orleans but now lives in Waveland. He is a friend of Lester Haverly, Sr.

Robert Poyadou is connected with the Continental Oil Co. and works out of Grand Isle, Louisiana. Bob, when off duty, does a lot of salt water fishing in that area of the Gulf was telling us of some big fish he has landed. He operates a 105-foot boat out to the oil rigs. He commutes from Bay St. Louis.

We have all heard of hog's head cheese, but for the first time I ate some fish cheese at Clarisse's in Waveland. It was made by Mrs. Villere Clarisse, from the fish caught by Mel Villere. Mel with a couple of his fishing friends brought in four ice boxes of fish caught out in the marsh. Clarisse has a recipe all her own consisting of green onions, parsley, etc., and it is delicious!

Saw a picture of Hank Irvin, a committeeman with the Explorer Scout Troop of New Orleans on the ship called "Sea Explorer," which is 65-feet long. The explorers are making a trip to Yucatan this Friday. The crew consists of Scout Explorers and some of their dads. Hank Irvin is formerly of Bay St. Louis. The Dixie Roto Magazine gave the story in Sunday's issue of the

Times-Picayune

Mickey Demoran and Pete Garcia reported catching 16 flounders from 4 to 7 pounds. The flounders were speared at Isle Tepete in the La. marsh last week. Both boys are expert fishermen. They catch their share of speckles, too.

Pat Toomey, our Senior Game Warden calls attention to the fact that new fishing licenses are now due. The new licenses can be purchased the middle of June. Pat said no license is required for fishing in the Mississippi Sound or in the Bay of St. Louis.

In all other waters in Hancock County a license is required regardless of what kind of tackle is used even a pole and line.

Make it easy on the game wardens and yourself. Get a fishing license before going fishing.

The director of the Louisiana-Wild Life and Fisheries Commission revealed that two million striped bass fry were being obtained this week from the Virginia Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries under a cooperative program with Virginia's Commission.

He said that a Commission plane left New Orleans for Lynchburg, Virginia, where the two million striped bass fry will be picked up and flown to Louisiana.

Under the plan, agreed upon by the two state Commissions 400,000 fry will be placed in hatcheries in Monroe; 1,000,000 will be taken to Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge and placed in hatcheries there; and an additional 600,000 will be placed at the Marine Laboratory at Grand Terre.

When the fry reach fingerling stage 25 percent of the total number of survivors will be returned to Virginia and the remaining fingerlings will be stocked in Louisiana waters.

Found out yesterday that bass in ponds and lakes hereabout are striking late in the evening and in deeper water. During hot weather the bass do not feed in shallow water along the banks. The water is too warm.

Leaves show backs before rain. They grow according to prevailing wind; a change of wind turns them over.

A lot of lights are being seen out front at night but haven't heard of many soft crabs being caught. The tide at night is low which should be ideal for catching the little creatures. Would like to hear from someone catching them.

Richard (Dick) Toribio, chairman of the fair at St. Ann's church at Clermont Harbor gives more information regarding the Fair. It will take place on June 8 and 9th. The main prize will be a trip for two to Las Vegas or $500 in cash. The fair will be held on the church grounds with many booths, drinks and food plus a softball tournament both days. Bring the family and have a good time.

Scholastic honors

New college will open

Among University of Mississippi students recently initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, national fraternity whose membership marks the highest honor that may be attained by an Ole Miss student, are from left, Laurie Frances Newton, Long Beach; Charles Glenn Taylor, Port Gibson; Virginia Cotton Rice, Gulfport; and William Lyle Willshire Jr., Gulfport.

Council Community College, a new institution of higher learning for Mississippi, will be opened in Jackson next fall with Dr. Hayward W. Hargrove, Jr., as its president, it was announced by William J. Simmons, president of the Council School Foundation.

Dr. Hargrove is one of the state's best known young educators, having served for the past two years as assistant director of the Mississippi Universities Center in Jackson.

Simmons said that the new school will begin operations in 1974 with a basic first-year college course and will offer two years of college with the beginning of the 1975 term.

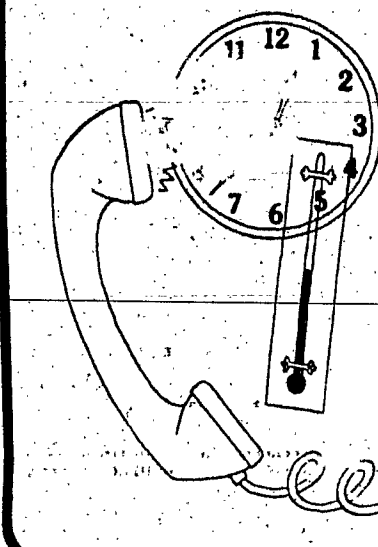

The college will be located on the grounds of Council School 3 Manhattan in Jackson and will use existing classroom and instructional facilities, Simmons said. Members of the faculty will be drawn from the Council School Foundation's present roster of instructors, one-third of whom hold Masters degrees.

Dr. Hargrove said that recruitment and enrollment of students for the first freshman class of Council Community College will begin immediately. Dr. Hargrove will have offices at the Council School Foundation's headquarters at 254 East Griffith Street.

Establishment of the Council Community College, Simmons said, marks the attainment of a goal long held by directors of the Council School Foundation, which opened its first private school in 1964 with an enrollment of only 22 pupils and now operates the largest private non-sectarian school system in the nation, having 12 locations, including schools not only in Jackson, but also in Vicksburg and Natchez.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FROM OUR FUNERAL HOMES

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST

We, the undersigned funeral home directors, with deep regret, announce that as of August 1, 1974, we will discontinue the ambulance services that we have been providing the people of our community during the past years in favor of Mobile-Medic Ambulance Service, Inc. selected by the West Harrison County-Hancock County Emergency Medical Service Committee.

The ambulance service, a twenty-four hour business, was happily sponsored by us as a courtesy in response to a vital need of the community, while other areas have been provided this service through the sponsorship of fire departments, hospitals, city and county law enforcement agencies, special ambulance service districts created by governing bodies, or by a combination of several such departments or organizations.

We have been forced to this decision by old and new directives and regulations of federal agencies pertaining to the operation of ambulance services, which has made it economically impossible for us to continue these services and, at the same time, be able to take care of our personal business and professional demands.

Many funeral homes in our state and other states have already discontinued their ambulance services, with notice to the public varying from twenty-four hours to three months. We have agreed to continue providing this service until August 1, 1974, in order to allow the West Harrison County-Hancock County Emergency Medical Service Committee to make adequate plans and preparations for assuming this vital community service.

We are deeply grateful for the confidence and trust placed in us during the many years we have been able to provide this needed public service. We have tried to meet our assumed obligations during this time efficiently and courteously. We sincerely hope that any new arrangement by our successors will prove as satisfactory to both sponsor and user as our associations have been.

Sincerely,
